

Three members of the Oakland Youth Orchestra performed at the Commonwealth Club of California in San Francisco on Wednesday, July 13, 2011. They were Devon Ivie and Azeem Ward on flute, and Andrew Li on cello.

They played at the reception prior to the evening program where Hiroshi Inomata, Consul General of Japan, gave his presentation: An Update and Reflections on the Japanese Earthquake and Tsunami.

Mr. George Dobbins, Vice President of Programs, The Commonwealth Club of California, commented on the lovely music by the Oakland Youth Orchestra provide at the reception. He said, "I know that the Consul General, members of the consular staff, and the audience at large enjoyed it immensely".

Submitted by Conway Jones, OYO Board Member